

Task 2.5: Frontend Inspiration

I think delish has one of the best websites in terms of frontend. It really draws you in with popular recipe right at the start, an attention-grabbing centre piece while having enough whitespace so it looks professional. The starting screen also includes the navigation bar so the user doesn't have to scroll down to see the website but scrolling does reveal additional recipes. It looks really modern and dynamic.